Background:

Since its inception, the College has been renowned for its innovative approach to experiential learning. The College, founded in 1964, was first named the Women's Talent Corps. The College was chartered in 1970 and renamed The College for Human Services, a name it held until 1992 when it became Audrey Cohen College in honor of its visionary founder. Metropolitan College of New York became effective in 2002.

Purpose-Centered Education:

The College has designated and implemented a unique Purpose-Centered System of Education. Undergraduate programs are divided into eight "Purposes," each equivalent to one semester of traditional college work. Every semester's coursework addresses a purpose or complex area of activity essential to professional work in our global economy. In each "Purpose," the student is required to take Constructive Action at the workplace or internship related to the theme of the semester.

Accreditation:

The College holds full accreditation from The Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools and from the New York State Board of Regents.

NOTE: A bracket around a grade indicates the course is being repeated and was taken previously.

Calculation of Cumulative Grade Point Average:

As of the Summer 1991 semester, an original F grade for a course taken during or after that semester, which has subsequently been repeated, and for which a satisfactory grade has then been recorded, is no longer calculated in the cumulative G.P.A. The original grade, however, continues to be shown on the transcript. However, please also note that for students who received an F grade prior to the Summer 1991 semester, the failure continues to be included in the cumulative G.P.A. calculation.

NOTE 1: Through the Summer 1984 semester, College policy allowed one U (unsatisfactory) or one I (incomplete) grade within each Purpose. These credits were added towards graduation, but were not used in the calculation of the G.P.A.

NOTE 2: Under CUM, the G.P.A. is cumulative. In the Summary by Purpose, the G.P.A. is calculated only in relation to that particular Purpose.

Notations on the Record:

- Attmp Credits attempted
- Earned Credits earned
- Total Includes TR credits
- Points Total grade point or grade weights
- Forgiveness/Repeat Policy (Contact Registrar)

Advanced Standing:

Advanced Standing at Metropolitan College of New York is not a simple recognition of prior life experience. It requires weekly seminar attendance, extensive supplementary reading, and a detailed analysis and documentation of prior learning and employment organized to reflect the College's system of education, and completed in relation to a specific College Purpose.
